Falls Management Class Coming September 3rd to Waverly

Could you or someone you know benefit from helpful hints about preventing falls? Have you or someone you know turned down a chance to go out with family and friends because of a concern about falling? Have you or someone you know become afraid of a favorite activity due to a fear of falling? If so, there is a program now offered locally that is specifically designed to help with these and other similar concerns. Thanks to a partnership with the Area Agency on Aging District 7 (AAA7), local coaches are now trained to offer this program in Pike County to those who are interested.

The program, “A Matter of Balance: Managing Concerns About Falls,” is designed to reduce the fear of falling and increase activity levels among older adults. Participants in the class learn to set realistic goals to increase activity, change their environment to reduce fall risk factors, and learn simple exercises to increase strength and balance. Attending classes can help improve quality of life and independence.

In a study of participants after six months following the A Matter of Balance program, 97 percent are more comfortable talking about their fear of falling; 97 percent feel comfortable with increasing their activity level; 99 percent plan to continue exercising; and 98 percent would recommend A Matter of Balance.

The Pike County Senior Center will be hosting the class that will begin in Waverly on September 3rd. Classes will be held from 1:00 pm until 3:00 pm on Thursdays from September 3rd through October 22nd. Classes will be held at the Pike County Senior Center, located at 402 Clough Street in Waverly.

If you are interested in participating in the upcoming A Matter of Balance series in Waverly, please call Vicki Woyan or Carla Cox at the AAA7 at 1-800-582-7277. Class size is limited, so if you or someone you know is interested, please call soon to reserve your spot. Registration deadline is August 28th.
