

March 23, 2022

The Web
by Kay Fry

Life is like a constant web that spins and weaves and tangles and through each cycle it grows and grows until one day
the threads break lose
and then
life disappears